By: Seth Hamm

2017.

Preface

The Matthew McCown Family History book was compiled by Seth Hamm (Matthew's 5x great-grandson) on September 11, 2019, and took over 6 years to complete. There are a total of 1,249 people listed in this book, however this book only includes the descendants of William Matthew McCowan (1834-1876) and Mary Ann McCowan (1827-1905).

The following sites were used for the creation of the family history book: Ancestry.com (and the app); FamilySearch.org; FindAGrave.com; Geni.com; Wikitrees.com; Rootsweb.Ancestry.com; FaceBook.com; Quanki.com; Whitepages.com; Premium.Whitepages.com; Legacy.com; and various local news websites containing obituaries for various areas along with information given by members of the family. Census, death, birth, marriage, obituaries and public records were used to provide information for both the living and deceased members. As a result, some information may be inaccurate with misspelled names, accidental links to wrong parents such as people being listed as their parents-in-law's child; wrong birth years or dates; and wrong names.

Also, some information as well as members of the family may have been unintentionally left out either because they have not been linked to the family in the records used for the history book due to limited records for the individual or his/her family member didn't provide their names or asked for the name to be left out of the book.

The author is aware of and would like to apologize for the numbering mistakes on certain individuals in this book. If there are any other mistakes, feel free to contact the author via e-mail at sethhamm2001@gmail.com, by phone at (765) 748-8764, or by mail at 9900 N County Road 525 W, Gaston, IN, 47342. Please note that your corrections will not be reprinted in a new family history book.

This book is meant to document all of the McCowan family members. It is also not meant to be published by any means and is only meant for private use.

Other Notes

The McCowan family name is recorded in various spellings including MacCowan, McCowan, McCowen, McCone, McKeown, Cowan, Cowans, and Cowing. This McCowan name is of Gaelic origin, but was first used by the Strathclyde-Briton people of the Scottish/English Borderlands. The name was first recorded in Ayrshire, formerly a country in the southwestern Strathclyde region of Scotland, which today makes up the Council Areas of South, East and North Ayrshire. The family held a family seat there from very ancient times, some say well before the Norman Conquest and the arrival of Duke William at Hastings in 1066 A.D.. It is a short form of the pre 10th century Gaelic name 'MacEoghain.' The translation is either "the son of John," or "the son of Eoghan," the latter being a personal name which is claimed to derive ultimately from the Ancient Greek name "Eugenious," meaning "born lucky." In either case, it is probably a 'Crusader' name. That is to say a Gaelic version of one of the Biblical or Greek names which were brought to Europe by the returning Knight Templars of the 12th Century. The various patronymic forms of the surname also include MacOwen, MacCown, and Owenson. It should be noted that most of the names lost their "Mac" prefix during the 17th century, although recently many nameholders have reintroduced them. Early examples of the surname include: John Cowan, who was the Chancellor of Christ Church, Waterford, Ireland; the Cowan's Hospital was founded in Stirling, Scotland by John Cowan in 1582, who was a merchant there; and John McCowan was recorded in Kilbrandon, County of Angus, Scotland, in 1691. Jane McCowan emigrated from Ireland on the ship "Mayfield of Liverpool," bound for New York, on May 17th, 1846 at the beginning of the Irish Potato Famine (1846-1851). Throughout the centuries, surnames in every country have continued to "develop," often leading to astonishing variants of the original spelling.

THE MCCOWAN MOTTO: The motto was originally a war cry or slogan. Mottoes first began to be shown with arms in the 14th and 15th centuries, but were not in general use until the 17th century. Thus, the oldest coats of arms generally do not include a motto. Mottoes seldom form part of the grand of arms: under most heraldic authorities, a motto is an optional component of the coat of arms, and can be added to or changed at will; many families have chosen not to display the motto. The McCowan family motto is "sic itur in altum" or "this is the way to Heaven."

The earliest found member of the McCown/McCowan family (our branch) is Matthew McCowan, who was born in about 1800. He married Elizabeth Luttrell in 1819 and had about 7 children, whose names are unknown except for 4. They lived in Knox County, Tennessee.

The McCown/McCowan family moved from Knox County to Roane County after Matthew passed away before the 1860 census. Anna Hurst Hembree, Mary Guffey, William Matthew McCown, and Eliza McCown moved to Roane County and stayed there all their lives, it is unknown if their siblings did the same. William moved to Morgan (married in this county) and Lincoln counties in Tennessee first. Eliza moved to Morgan County first and Martha moved to Morgan County then to Marion County, Arkansas. The names of the offspring of William and Mary are the only ones known, and most are considerably undocumented. So, most of the people in the book are descended from William Matthew McCown, Sr. (1834-1876).

From then, William McCown's family moved around Overton and Putnam County and Mary Guffey's family moved to Anderson County in Tennessee. Martha (McCown) William's family later moved into Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Virginia, and Texas but there are still several McCowan family members that are living in Tennessee. Martha (McCown) Stonecipher's family moved to Marion County, Arkansas originally. That family later moved to Texas.

There are 10 known generations of descendants of Matthew McCowan.

Cousin relationships are determined by distance (first, second, third, etc.), and times removed. Distance is determined as one less than the lower number of the previous generations transversed back from each of the individuals until the first common ancestor is found. Thus, if two people of the same generation have a common great-grandparent (three generations back), they are second cousins.

Removal is determined by the number of generations which separate the two people. For example, consider your first cousin's children. Because your common ancestor with them is your grandfather (two generations back) and their great-grandfather (three generations back), you are first cousins, once removed.

In cases of adopted or fostered children, the child is placed as the child of the adoptive or fostered parents but an apostrophe (') is placed in front of their names. In cases of the name of the mother or father of the children of a McCowan family member being unknown, the member's life summary will list the unknown parent of his/her children as "an unknown spouse" even if their parents never married each other. Also, if the husband of a female family member's first name is unknown, his first name will be listed as "Mr." (ex. Mr. Doe) and if the maiden name of the wife of a male family member is unknown, their surname will be listed as "Unknown." (ex. Jane Unknown)

Peer Generation

1. Matthew McCown - Matthew McCown was born about 1800 in Knox County, Tennessee, USA. He married Elizabeth Luttrell [2] on September 20, 1829 in Knox County, Tennessee, USA and had 8 children. He was definitely born between June and September 1800 according to censuses and the marriage record. Matthew passed away in Knox County, Tennessee, USA before 1860 while older than 50.

2. Elizabeth Luttrell (Matthew's wife) - Elizabeth Luttrell was born about 1800 in Knox County, Tennessee, USA probably to Edward Luttrell who was born between 1750 and 1760 and died between 1830 and 1840. Her mother was still living in 1830 as well, it is not known if she had passed away by 1840 since names of household members other than the head were not recorded until 1850. Her mother was also born in between 1750 and 1760, she would have died between 1830 and 1850. She married Matthew McCown [1] on September 20, 1829 in Knox County, Tennessee, USA and had 8 children. She was probably a few months older than Matthew, and could have been born in 1799. Elizabeth passed away in 1844 in Knox County, Tennessee, USA at the age of about 44.

On September 20, 1819, Matthew McCown, 19, and Elizabeth Luttrell, 19, married in Knox County, Tennessee, USA and had 8 children.

- 1 Nancy A. McCown [3] in 1823.
- 2 Anna McCown [4] in 1825.
- 3 Mary Ann McCown [7] in 1827.
- 4 May McCown [9] in 1831.
- 5 William Matthew McCown [10] in 1834.
- 6 Martha McCown [12] in 1838.
- 7 Eliza McCown [] in 1840.

NOTES:

In the 1830 Census, Matthew and his family were living in Knox County, Tennessee next door to Edward Luttrell (a man, aged 70-80 who was most likely Elizabeth's father, that was living alone with his wife who was also aged 70-80) and William McLanie. Matthew's name was misspelled as McCowan in this census (note, the name variant McCowan probably did not exist until the 1880s). According to the census, Matthew was living with a woman, aged 20-30 (his wife), and 2 daughters, one under the age of 5 (Mary Ann) and one age 5-10 (either Nancy or Anna). One of Matthew's daughters was either living with another family member or was not counted by accident. In the 1840 Census, Matthew and his family were living in Knox County, Tennessee next door to William L. White and Mary Akinpook. Living in the household were a male, age 5-10 (William); a man aged 30-60 (Matthew); a female aged 5-10 (Eliza or May), a female aged 10-15 (either May or Mary Ann); and a female aged 30-40 (Elizabeth). This time, 3 of Matthew's daughters (Nancy, Anna and either May or Mary) were either living in a separate household or was not counted by accident. Elizabeth was not mentioned in the 1850 US Census, meaning she probably passed away. WikiTrees set the date of her death in the year 1844 in Knox County, Tennessee, USA. Matthew was mentioned in the 1850 US Census, but he disappeared in the 1860 US Census, he either passed away by this time or was living with one of his children and not posing as the head of the household. For this reason, I have set his death date in between 1850 and 1860. Matthew probably went by "Matt." He is listed as "Matt" in the 1850 Census. Matthew's children were living in another home separate from him with his daughter Nancy as the head in 1850 in Knox County, Tennessee.

He is buried in New Fairview Baptist Church Cemetery in Kalida, Roane County, Tennessee, USA.

NOTES:

William was a Civil War veteran and was a POW at the Rock Island POW Camp in Illinois from May 27, 1862 to May 15, 1863. In 1870, William was living in the 14th district of Roane County, he worked as a farm laborer and owned a personal property worth $200.00. Later, William became ordained for deaconship for the Fairview Church of Christ (present-day New Fairview Baptist Church of Kalida, Tennessee) on the fourth Saturday of June in 1872. He was appointed the church clerk on the fourth Saturday of August 1873, the same day of which his sister Eliza became a member of the church. The surname on his grave is spelled McCowan, although William spelled his name McCown according to signature in the church minutes of the Fairview Church of Christ.

Francis passed away in 1904 in Columbia Hill, Overton County, Tennessee, USA at the age of about 72. She is buried in Columbia Hill Cemetery in Columbia Hill, Overton County, Tennessee, USA.

NOTES:

According the 1900 Census, Francis McCowan [6] was living with her daughter, Daubrey E. "Darbey" Howard [12], in Burrville, Morgan County, Tennessee, USA. She is not mentioned in the 1910 U.S. Census. There two different death dates that are listed for Francis McCowan depending on which sources you look into. The two death dates are 1904 and 1912. Francis would most likely have passed away in 1904 because she is not mentioned in the 1910 Census. Even if she did pass in 1912, she must have moved out of her oldest daughter, Darbey's, home, maybe after Darbey's death in 1902. It is unknown which family member she lived with after this. Also, Francis was nicknamed "Frankie" and was probably called that by most of her family. Although it has been said that she was a full-blooded Cherokee, Francis was born to a probably full-blooded or at least half Cherokee mother, Priscilla Floyd. (her mother's maiden name is not Southern) Her father was Jeremiah Hurst and there is no sign of Cherokee ancestry in his family, which actually came over from England according to the historical record. Francis was buried in Columbia Hill Cemetery, however her grave is unmarked. James Oliver McCowan [165] stated on a trip to Rock Island Illinois on July 2, 2016 to his daughter and great-grandsons that he knew of a man that knew where Francis was buried, but that the man had passed away before he could tell Oliver where the grave was located.

On March 17, 1859, William Matthew McCown, 25, and Francis Hurst, 26, married in Morgan County, Tennessee, USA and had 9 children.

Although William and Martha moved to Marion County, Arkansas between 1867 and 1871, Eliza stayed in Tennessee. She moved into Roane County, where her brother William and sister Mary had moved. The last appearance of Eliza in records was in a church minute for the Fairview Church of Christ (present-day New Fairview Baptist Church in Kalida, Tennessee) dated the fourth Saturday of August in 1873. The minute was recorded by her brother, William, who was the church deacon and had just begun his time as church clerk that same day.

Of the four of Francis' younger sisters, three of them passed away between December 1859 and January 1860 (all not even reaching the age of 25). Francis' mother also passed away in 1860. Typhoid fever spread through the family in the winter of 1859, causing 4 members of her family to pass away. George was a circuit-riding preacher, who for 45 years until the year of his death. His grandson, James Oliver McCowan [165], claims that George once preached a sermon while sitting in a rocking chair and often went to an old tree stump to pray. George passed away on March 31, 1947 in Overton County, Tennessee, USA at the age of 79. He is buried in Moses Wilson Cemetery in Overton County, Tennessee, USA.

NOTES:

In an interview with George's grandson, James Oliver McCowan [165] on April 14, 2018 conducted by his great-grandson, Seth Andrew Hamm [], McCowan said this about his grandfather: "In World War II, Uncle William went to the army and Uncle Perry went to the army. And William asked Dad if one of the boys would stay with [Grandpa] and Dad said, 'Bud can go stay with him.' So, I stayed three years [with him]. [I] went to school, cut wood, milked the cows, gathered the eggs, fed the hogs every evening during World War II. Grandpa, he preached over forty-seven years, I know he preached that long. He rode horseback across the mountains. He would leave on Saturday evening a lot of times riding a horse and go from Overton County across to Fentress County into Morgan County and preach and get home, a lot of times it'd be Monday morning before he would get back. He preached and rode that big old red horse. He sang a song and rode the horse across them mountains."
